

Tulane Center for Infectious Diseases Seminar

Spring 2005

J. Bennett Johnston Bldg, Room 504

4:00-5:00 PM Thursdays

Date	Speaker	Title
1/20/05	Cristian Apetrei, PhD Tulane National Primate Center	SIVsm Pathogenesis in Naturally-Infected Sooty Mangabeys (SMs) and Experimentally-Infected Heterologous Species
2/3/05	Holly Murphy, MD, MPH & TM Tulane University, Department of Medicine	CD4+CD25+ Regulatory T Cells and Disease Progression of HIV
2/17/05	Karol Sestak, PhD Tulane National Primate Center	Development and characterization of juvenile rhesus macaque model of rotavirus infection
3/3/05	Sue Wang, MD Tulane School of Medicine	Investigating the Persistence of Tuberculosis in Louisiana with Molecular Genotyping
3/31/05	Jin-Woo Choi, PhD Dept of Elec. & Computer Engineering, LSU	BioMEMS and Lab on a Chip: As a Tool for Biomedical Application
5/6/05* (Friday)	Claudia S. Copeland Dept of Tropical Medicine Tulane University (Ph.D. Defense)	Characterization and analysis of LTR retrotransposons from the genome of the human blood fluke, Schistosoma mansoni
5/12/05	Paul J. Brindley, Ph.D. Dept of Tropical Medicine Tulane University	Schistosome transgenesis using mobile genetic elements
5/19/05	Richard Oberhelman, M.D. Dept of Tropical Medicine Tulane University	New Diagnostic Methods for Pediatric TB in Peru

Seminar conveners, Drs. Paul Brindley (paul.brindley@tulane.edu) and Young Hong (young@tulane.edu)