Memo from the Tulane University Controller’s Office

Re: Reporting your Corporate Card Expenditure

I wanted to take a few moments to advise you as to the reconciliation process for Corporate Card expenditures.

1. We’re using J.P. Morgan Chase tools similar to the PCARD so you can see and approve your transactions for payment online.
2. We will pay the bills without seeing your documents as long as you and your supervisor approve your online transactions.
3. Initially, your expenditures will be defaulted to a travel advance subcode on your departmental account. You will clear these expenditures as you would a travel advance by turning in your expense reports and receipts. You do not get to retain original receipts at the department level.
   a. In some cases you may have expenses on one cycle (say March) that you will not report until later (say April). Airfare and hotel advance payments come to mind.
   b. You are not allowed to charge personal expenses to the card. If some incidental expenses on your hotel bill are so charged, the procedure is to turn in a check payable to Tulane with your expense report.
4. We still need your expense reports and receipts but we’re giving you up to 45 days to turn these in.
   a. Cycles end on the 15th of the month, you have until the 30th of the following month to turn in your expense reports.
   b. The workflow will be the same as other Payment Requests.
   c. Remember, your supervisor must approve your travel and entertainment reports. You cannot approve your own reports.
5. A template to support expense reporting will be filed online at the Accounts Payable forms site (http://www.tulane.edu/~tams/forms/forms/apforms.htm).
   a. I have attached a completed form as an example.
   b. We left the report as an Excel template so you could tailor it to your needs.
      i. Eliminate Columns, add rows, etc.
   c. We will allow you to bypass the voucher form by placing your codes on this form.
   d. The form includes reminders and I’ve color coded related cells.

In summary, you still have to report your expenditures and turn in your forms. We’re making payment easier by paying your expenses directly and before we review your expenses. If you fail to turn in your reports, you risk card cancellation and back you’ll go to the reimbursement track.

Please call me at 314.2836 or send me a note at flarrel@tulane.edu if you have any questions.

Employee Refund to Tulane
Total Expenses for the cycle

Expense Justification:

Trip, scheduled roundtable discussions with controllers from 14 universities
5/19 lunch with Tony Lorino (Tulane's CFO) to discuss bond financing

Highlights to communicate:

We will pay your charge card bill without receiving your expense report.
You must review the charges online as we do now for PCARDS but you don’t recode them.
You must prepare a T&E report (as you do now) and forward the report and receipts to your supervisor, and to accounts payable.

Personal charges are not generally not allowed. Exceptions can be made for incidental personal items found on a hotel bill. The procedure is to turn in your check with the expense report for incidental personal items on your hotel bill and thus on the card. Incidental out of pocket costs can be handled just like the existing practices.

You can turn in separate request if needed to keep it clear.
A department account will be used to clear charges. Such account will hold advance payments until you apply them by way of completing this report each cycle.
When you turn in your report, you will code University expenses as per normal practice, the department clearing account will be credited.

Note about accounting codes: The following default natural accts have been created: 753E will hold department card charges until you move them and 755F will hold individual cardholder charges until you move them by way of submitting this report.
